

Cyberbullying conversation starters: Talking to 11-13 year olds

Before you start the conversation

Think about when and where best to talk to them - in the car or a neutral place where they feel safe

Jot down what you want to say to focus your mind, and make the conversation relevant to them

Be open and encouraging to make them feel supported

Have a few bite sized conversations to give them time to process

What you need to know

Typically 11-13 year olds will:

Have access to a smartphone or tablet

Use the internet to play games

Do homework online

Watch videos on YouTube or socialise with friends

There has been a rapid growth in the number of 11-13 year olds using social media - often with accounts on multiple social networks

Children as young as 11 post an average of 26 times a day, attract 100 followers to every one of their profiles

Over two thirds of 11-12 year olds have a Facebook profile despite a minimum age of 13

Bullying is a learnt behaviour - so it's important to set a good example and regularly reinforce being a good digital citizen

Tips to prevent cyberbullying

Set parental controls on devices your child can access

Talk to your child about what it means to have friends and followers online. Are they real friends? Can they trust them?

Be aware that your child might start exploring romantic relationships. Talk about what they can safely share and who to trust

Encourage your child to be kind to others and think about the impact of words and actions

Tips to deal with cyberbullying

Don't jump to conclusions. Gently explore with your child what has gone on before the message or the post

Be aware the cyberbullying can be a continuation of, or a response to bullying already happening at school or elsewhere

Don't encourage your child to retaliate in any way that is angry, offensive or threatening

Be aware that all forms of bullying can make you feel very sad, afraid and alone. Reassure your child that together you will sort it out

Think carefully before taking away your child's access to their phone or tablet (this can increase loneliness)

Help your child to report any offensive content to the social media provider

Encourage your child to broaden their network of friends and to take part in activities that make them feel good about themselves

Seek help. You could talk to your child's school or if your child feels harassed or threatened, the police. There are also charities like Kidscape that can give advice
